Berlin—The Saxony town of Eisleben was made a concentration point for communist rioters Thursday.
Reports from officials there said "the worst" was expected.
Thousands of "Reds" from all parts of central Germany flocked to the city, most of them carrying arms.
Advices from Torgau, another manufacturing center in Saxony, said workers were seizing the factories there.
Radical leaders urged the workmen to follow the Italian example by driving out their employers' and operating the plants for themselves.

Berlin—German communists fought Thursday for control of the government.
They instituted a reign of terror throughout mid-Germany. Looting, property destruction and 25 deaths followed the trail of demonstrations from the great shipyards in Hamburg to the mining regions in the south and even to the outskirts of Berlin.
Police fought the Reds off, but in some cases were overpowered by great crowds. They were forced to entrench at Eisleben. Hand grenades, rifles and machine guns were used in the fighting.

Banks were robbed and public buildings dynamited. Miners were rendered useless. They were flooded or the railways torn out. Miners who desired to work were held off by Red pickets.
Public officials appealed to the Berlin government for military aid.
Martial Law Urged
The cabinet went into session with these appeals and read secret reports from the centers of disturbance. After long study, the cabinet declared local officials appeared to be getting the upper hand and that martial law would be withheld.

Efforts were made to connect the Russian Soviets with the uprisings. This connection was not shown, it was said, although the demonstrations were staged by sympathizers with the Soviet cause.

With Hamburg as a peak of a triangle, the area covered by the disturbance spread greatly with Berlin on one side and Halle on the south until it reached its greatest width in Saxony.

The situation threatened more serious trouble in all industrial centers.
Determined to show their contempt for all things sacred, communist leaders declared they would force all to work on Good Friday, thereafter resuming the strike.

Aimed At Allies
Working on the public's dissatisfaction with the allied terms, radicals are seeking to stir up a general revolt. They hope the demonstration would land them in power. The dynamiting of the victory column in Berlin was the first step.

The radical press, led by the "Red Flag" here, is urging "action with weapons in hand."
Government officials declared they were confident they can suppress the uprising but admitted that more property damage and bloodshed might result before it is quelled.

The death list included
Seventeen in Hamburg, three in Freiburg and five in Eisleben.

MELANCHOLIA WAS CAUSE OF SUICIDE

Indianapolis, Ind.—Relatives of Mrs. Stoughton A. Fletcher and her mother, Mrs. Eva L. Henley, social leaders, who committed suicide at Laurel Hall, the Fletcher home, Wednesday, were positive Thursday that Mrs. Fletcher took her own life because of extreme melancholia from brooding over her physical condition. It was said Mrs. Henley, who discovered her daughter's body, saw the flash of prussic acid lying near and she acted on the spur of the moment.
Mrs. Fletcher had been in ill health for over two years, suffering from nervous trouble and stomach ailments. She had consulted specialists in New York and elsewhere, but without improving. She had been bedridden until a week prior to her death.
When servants found the two bodies in a dressing room they thought Mrs. Fletcher had had another nervous attack and died from heart trouble, and the shock of finding her daughter dead, killed Mrs. Henley. A physician was summoned and he directed the calling of the coroner.

Stoughton Fletcher, the husband, returned hurriedly from Chicago where he had gone on a business trip. He is president of the Fletcher American National bank and is known nationally in financial circles.

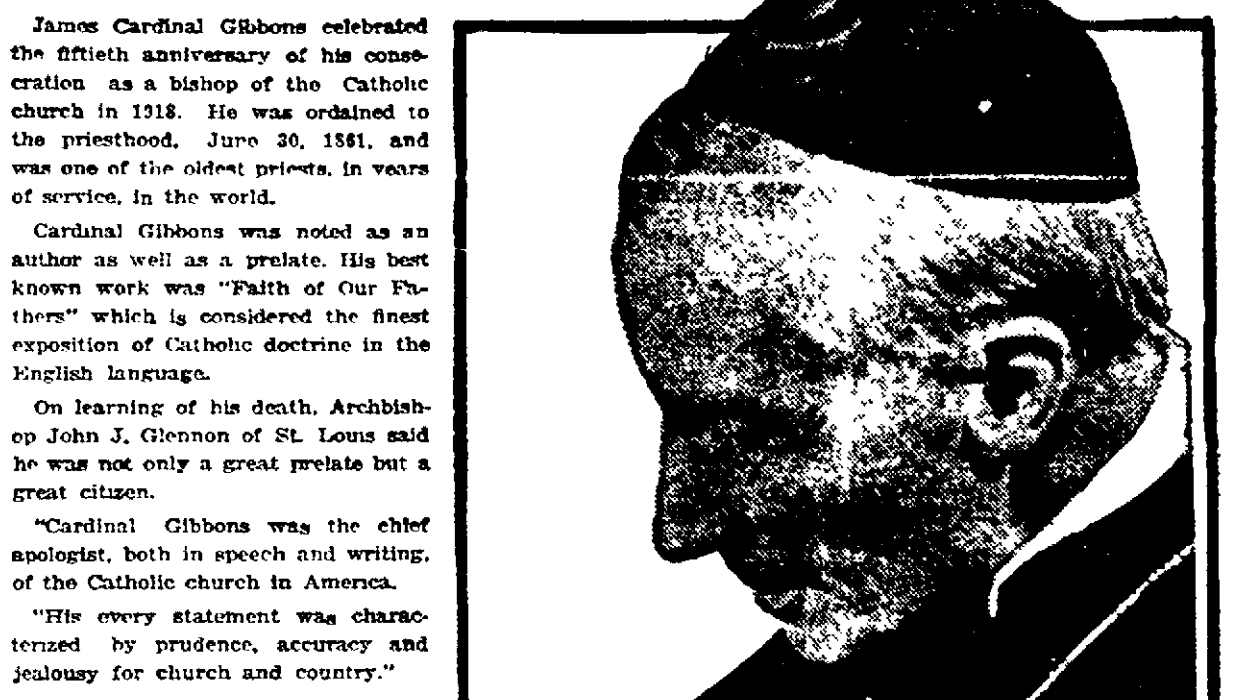

CLOSER RELATIONS WITH RUSS COMING

Harding and Hoover Are Not Agreed on Attitude Toward Soviets.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—President Harding and his advisers are preparing to announce a policy toward Soviet Russia, it was learned Thursday.
How far they will go in reversing the stand of the Wilson administration has not been decided at this time but a change in the direction of closer relations is regarded as certain.
Recognition of the Soviet government as a member of the world family of nations, however, seems a long way off. No matter what steps are taken to encourage trade relations, it can be said that President Harding is as flatly opposed to recognition of the Soviet government as he ever has.
There were indications Thursday that Harding and Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, are not in complete accord with the Russian situation. Hoover opposes resumption of trade relations.
Harding, so far as his views have been made public, favors bringing Russia back to production, believing this to be one essential step in restoring world economic stability.

Death Claims Catholic Prelate

James Cardinal Gibbons celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his consecration as a bishop of the Catholic church in 1918. He was ordained to the priesthood, June 30, 1861, and was one of the oldest priests, in years of service, in the world.

Cardinal Gibbons was noted as an author as well as a prelate. His best known work was "Faith of Our Fathers" which is considered the finest exposition of Catholic doctrine in the English language.
On learning of his death, Archbishop John J. Glennon of St. Louis said he was not only a great prelate but a great citizen.
"Cardinal Gibbons was the chief apologist, both in speech and writing, of the Catholic church in America. His every statement was characterized by prudence, accuracy and jealousy for church and country."

WEEKS IS SEEKING STATUS OF DEMAND FOR DRAFT EVADER

Secretary of State Hughes Is Asked to Rule on Note to Germany.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—Secretary of War Weeks Thursday sent to Secretary of State Hughes all papers in the case of Grover Cleveland Bergdall with a request that Weeks be advised what further action to take.
Weeks asked that the state department consider the situation from an international standpoint and tell him what should be done to secure the surrender of Bergdoll and the release from a German prison of two Americans who recently attempted to capture the millionaire draft evader.
Secretary Hughes also was asked to advise Weeks whether the demand on the German government for the surrender of Bergdoll already made, can be insisted on under the terms of the armistice. The war department regards Bergdoll as an escaped military prisoner.

Secretary Weeks also said Thursday that from reading the papers in the case it was apparent that General Henry T. Allen already had made representations to German authorities for the release of Carl Neuf and Franz Zimmer, the two Americans who tried to capture Bergdoll.
Weeks stated definitely that the two men while attached to the American army of occupation, were not acting under General Allen's order when they tried to take Bergdoll. The men apparently are "comfortable," weeks said, and expressed the opinion the German government does not desire to hold them for any great length of time.

ADVERSE REPORTS ON SEVERAL BILLS

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison—Committees have scheduled for killing many bills, including the Bennett grade crossing bill which would force the railroads of the state to establish separation grades on all highways where the roadways precede the railroads.
The New Junior college bill to establish five junior colleges in the state was reported for indefinite postponement, a committee majority opposing the measure because of the appropriation of $50,000 if carried.
Racine, Green Bay and Superior were planning to establish such colleges. The Arnold property exemption bill which gave property owners a tax of $2,000 on their homes was not favored.
The Pelletier bill repealing the anti-nuptial examinations was killed by the assembly after much debate in which it was charged the bill was to be one essential step in restoring world economic stability.

AGED CARDINAL GIBBONS DIES IN BALTIMORE

Head of the Catholic Church in America Succumbs to Long Illness.

WAS NATIVE OF AMERICA
Noted Prelate Was Ordained as a Priest Nearly Sixty Years Ago.

By United Press Leased Wire
Baltimore, Md.—James Cardinal Gibbons died here Thursday at the age of 59.
The aged prelate yielded to illness which had confined him to bed the greater part of the winter.
After fighting off one attack the cardinal was so weakened that he could not withstand the second.
Cardinal Gibbons died at 11:17 a. m. Monsignor John Bonzano, apostolic delegate to the United States, Bishop Owen B. Corrigan, vicar general of the Baltimore archdiocese, and a large number of other clergymen were at the cardinal's home when his eminence died.
At 11:30 o'clock the nursing sister told the priests gathered at the bedside that the cardinal had only a few minutes to live. Father Stickney read the prayers for the dying and administered again the last rites of the church. The sister said the cardinal breathed his last at 11:33 o'clock but she did not officially pronounce him dead until 11:37 o'clock.

Pope Is Notified
Immediately after the death of the cardinal, Father Connolly, as chancellor of the archdiocese, officially notified Bishop Owen B. Corrigan, auxiliary bishop of Baltimore, and pastor of St. Gregory church, of the death of the prelate. Bishop Corrigan at once sent a cablegram to Pope Benedict XV in Rome while Father Connolly sent telegrams to every archbishop and bishop in America.

Mayor Broening ordered the city hall bell tolled and the flags on the municipal buildings placed at half mast.
The cardinal has been in poor health since last December. He rallied during the latter part of February and apparently was on the road to recovery when a sudden turn for the worse came last week and all hope for his recovery was given up.
The final stages of the cardinal's illness began on Sunday. He had recovered sufficiently to move about the home and even go outside. He became very much weaker on Sunday and was unable to leave his bed. His heart action became alarmingly weak and his temperature fell on that day.
Because of the cardinal's extreme frailty and his advanced age—he was 56 years old—all preparations were made for the end. The public was informed of the change in the condition of the most distinguished clergyman of the Catholic church in the United States.

Ill Signs November
The first evidence of the failure of Cardinal Gibbons' strength was given Nov. 7 of last year when he was seized with a momentary faintness and

LOVER'S NOTES TO "FIFI" GO TO JUDGE

Letters From Indian Guide to Mrs. Stillman Are Basis of Divorce Suit.

BULLETIN
New York—The next important step in the Stillman divorce scandal will be a legal fight to determine whether the suit shall be tried in private or in open court, it was learned from authoritative sources Thursday.
Testimony already has been taken before a special referee appointed by Justice Morschauer.

New York—One of the three affidavits filed on the first open hearing of the Stillman divorce scandal at White Plains Wednesday contained copies of five letters Mrs. "Fifi" Potter Stillman is alleged to have received from Fred Renaivas, French-Canadian guide, whom, James A. Stillman charges is the father of Mrs. Stillman's second son, Guy.
These letters, it was said, referred to "our child" and the "joys of parenthood."

Together with another letter, which Mrs. Stillman is alleged to have written to her multi-millionaire husband in 1918, in which she is said to have "admitted her error in a fit of hysteria."
They are understood to form the main foundation for Stillman's suit to obtain a divorce and establish the alleged illegitimacy of Guy Stillman. The full text of these letters is expected to be made public Monday when Justice Morschauer is scheduled to announce his decision of Mrs. Stillman's petition for increase of alimony to $10,000 and counsel fees of $50,000.
"Mrs. Leeds" who left Miami, Florida, with her infant son, "Jay Leeds," last week at the same time that Stillman's yacht, Modesty, disappeared from its anchorage off that town, was reported Thursday to have been seen in Palm Beach.

Tells Secret To Woman And Lands In Jail

By United Press Leased Wire
St. Paul—Delbert Smith told a woman a secret. It ended in his arrest at Salt Lake City, late Wednesday, charged with murder and robbery of the North Coast Limited mail car.

Authorities searched throughout the country for more than a month before they found him—then he confessed.
Smith robbed the Northern Pacific mail car near St. Cloud, Minn., Feb. 18, and escaped with nearly $60,000 in currency. When Zackery E. Strong, Minneapolis mail clerk revised Smith shot him three times and Strong died in a hospital.

The boy dropped from the train and went to White Bear lake where he stayed the rest of the night with Mrs. Grace McDonald, divorcee. The following day Mrs. McDonald, her mother, Mrs. Alice Hendricks and a relative, Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson went to the latter's flat where Smith had hidden about $40,000 of the money in a suitcase.
Federal authorities arrested the three women and secured identification of the bandit. Then the search started.
Late Wednesday postoffice inspectors walked up to Smith in the Salt Lake City postoffice and "covered" him with their guns.
"My God, I'll give up," he cried.
Smith will be brought back here to face a charge of murder and another charge of robbery. He said he would waive extradition.

I. AND R. BILL IS DEFEATED BY TIE VOTE IN SENATE

Important Bills Are Disposed of by Senate and Assembly in Day's Grind.

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison—The initiative and referendum was defeated in the state senate Thursday by a tie vote—15 to 15.
The joint resolution, offered by Senator Henry A. Huber, was a majority feature of the legislative program of Governor John J. Elaine and the administration. The initiative and referendum was advanced to third reading in the senate early in the week by a vote of 12 to 11.
Lieutenant Governor George F. Comings voted for the measure but the vote was not recorded because of constitutional provisions requiring a majority of the senators elected.
The assembly refused reconsideration to the Hanson bill repealing the personal property effect while under a call of the house. It was the last stand of the advocates of the personal property issue and the vote stood 47 to 42 against the measure.
The personal property offset will come up later in the assembly when the Dahl income tax bill is considered. This bill would repeal the personal property offset along with the secrecy clause guarding income tax returns.

Kill Backed Bill
The fight over the Hanson bill was followed by a wholesale slaughter of measures by the assembly in which the Marks bill, taxing bachelors between the ages of 30 and 60 years, suffered extinction.
The bachelor bill was plastered with amendments some of which would create a state home for maiden women to be supported from the tax received. The assembly refused to consider it other than a joke.

The Olson bill permitting a wholesale distribution of bulletins on hearings and reports of state activities was killed and the bill allowing employees one day rest in seven was passed after a long debate. The bill exempts employees of dairy and creamery factories.

WOUNDS WIFE AND ENDS HIS OWN LIFE

Wisconsin Rapids Man in Double Tragedy When Reconciliation Is Denied.

By United Press Leased Wire
Wisconsin Rapids, Wis.—Oliver Buck 24, is near death here Thursday, of revolver wounds inflicted by her husband, Thomas Chester Buck, 42, who ended his own life after wounding his wife.
Mrs. Buck is at Riverside hospital with three bullets in her abdomen.
The Bucks, who formerly lived in Minneapolis, Minn., became estranged recently after circulation of a story naming a Minneapolis man and Mrs. Buck, it was said here.
Mrs. Buck left Minneapolis and came here to live with her parents. Buck is said to have attempted suicide a week ago by taking carbolic acid. Failing in this, he came here and attempted a reconciliation.
Armed with two bottles of poison, razor and a gun, he made an attack on the home of his mother-in-law, who, with another daughter and her mother escaped. Buck opened fire on the family, but Mrs. Buck was the only one injured. He placed the gun in his mouth and killed himself.
Mrs. David Newberry of New London, was here Wednesday.

NATIONAL RAIL PACT MEANS OF SAVING MONEY

Railroad Union Leader Declares
New Agreements Would Cost 6 Millions.

MANY STRIKES AVERTED
Labor Turnover Is Decreased
Because of Similar Conditions on All Roads.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Machinery to draft individual agreements between railroads and employees would cost rail workers $6,000,000 and require the service of more than 5,000 men.
Bart M. Jewell, president of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, made this statement before the United States railroad labor board Thursday, as the opening shot of his plea against abrogation of the national agreements.
"If the national agreements were abrogated," said Jewell, "the matter of rules and working conditions would go back to the individual railroads and their employees. Economic or personal would be required in formulating and making operative the resultant agreements."

"The employees' conference committee on each railroad would be composed of at least one man from each craft at each point on the railroad."
"For the 107 roads the services of 5,155 committees would be required at a total daily expense of $65,760—or $5,918,442 for 90 days. This sum does not include additional expenses for stenographic work and printing."

Jewell presented a table showing the number of committeemen and the total expense for each railroad.
"Much of this enormous expense on both rail management and rail labor," declared Jewell, "as well as consumption of time of highly skilled and essential railroad officials and employees, would be eliminated by cooperation between management and standard recognized railroad labor organizations through creation of a conference committee authorized to represent corporations and the particular crafts."
Out of 455,776 railroad shop employees below rank of general foreman, 445,000 are actual members of craft organizations, according to Jewell.

"The federated shop crafts claim the right to represent all employees eligible to membership," Jewell said. "We do not contend that membership or nonmembership in the respective craft organizations shall operate to deny an applicant for employment the right to employment so long as he has the essential qualifications enabling him to perform the work for which he is making application."

Always on Strike
Jewell told the board that prior to 1912 there "was hardly a time but when some of the members of one or all of the federated shop craft organizations through creation of a 'wildcat' strike, would stop the railroad."
"It is significant, however," he added, "that since 1912 when the railway employees' department was organized, there has not been a single authorized strike of shop crafts."
"It is also significant that during this period the greatest progress toward the attainment of just and reasonable wages and working conditions, uniform rules applying alike to all railroads was made."

U. S. S. MILWAUKEE READY FOR WATER

By United Press Leased Wire
Tacoma, Wash.—Mrs. Randolph Pfeil, Jr., of Milwaukee, was ready Thursday to crack a bottle of Lake Michigan water on the bow of the scout cruiser Milwaukee, thereby adding another speedster to the fleet of major ships.

A delegation from Milwaukee and army and navy officials are here to participate in the christening of the ship which is scheduled for 5:30 p. m. Thursday at the dock of the Todd Construction company.

The vessel is a glorified destroyer in speed, designated armament. She is long and lean, having a length of 550 feet, a width of 35 feet and when loaded will draw but 12 1/2 feet of water. Four turbine engines, producing 10,500 horsepower will propel the ship through the seas at a rate of 33 to 40 miles an hour.

The Milwaukee is equipped with 12 six inch rapid fire guns, two three inch anti-aircraft guns, two three pounders and two machine guns. Two torpedo tubes will be installed in the hull.

HUNT CHICAGO GUNMAN WHO MURDERED SLEUTH

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Police Thursday combed Chicago and surrounding towns for Thomas O'Connor, notorious gunman and crook who shot and killed Detective Sgt. Patrick O'Neil last night.
O'Neil and other officers were with the team of 60 men when they were arrested in a large garage at 422 E. Madison St. O'Neil was shot in the foot and O'Connor opened fire. O'Neil was shot five times.

WOULD TAKE PART OF BRITISH NAVY TO PAY WAR DEBT

Senator Hoke Smith Believes Cooperation Will Insure Peace.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Washington — "The United States and England ought to cooperate, not compete in maintaining naval supremacy," says Hoke Smith, United States senator from Georgia.
By cooperation the interests of both would be fully protected, the freedom of the seas maintained, and cordial relations instead of jealousy and distrust fostered, the senator contends.
"Cooperation on a basis of equality could be attained without the further expenditure of a dollar by either nation and the people of America and Great Britain relieved for an indefinite period of the great and increasing burden of taxes due to naval competition."
Smith promises that Uncle Sam and John Bull go it 50-50 in naval strength John turning over enough of his present navy to equalize the naval strength of the two nations and Sam crediting the value of these vessels against John's indebtedness on war loans.

Unending Race
Otherwise, under the policy of President-elect Harding, has approved and which House and Senate leaders endorse, Sam will go ahead building battleships and naval craft in an effort to overtake England's strength.
England, to hold leadership, will redouble her building program, necessitating still further naval expenditures by this country.
And so on indefinitely piling up taxes and armament expenditures on both sides.

"Equality is all we seek," says Senator Smith, "we do not seek domination. We have no thought of aggression."
"Americans and English speak the same language. We have the same purposes. We hold the same views of human rights. There is no reason for competition in military strength."

Equality Needed
"But in the interests of harmonious cooperation there should be equality in strength. England's navy is now approximately 40 per cent larger than ours. If half of this excess, or 20 per cent, were turned over to the United States as a credit upon the amount of Great Britain's indebtedness to us, equality in strength would be established.
"We could then jointly carry the responsibility of keeping the ocean free and protecting the rights of all countries. And neither Great Britain nor the United States would have to build more ships for some time."

MILLIONS GONE AS CAMP DODGE ROTS

Much of the Equipment in Army
Camp, Now Rotting, Could Be Used.

Special to Post-Crescent
Des Moines, Ia.—Camp Dodge, representing an expenditure of millions by the U. S. War Department, is being battered to pieces by the wintry blasts.

The hundreds of huge barracks and thousands of smaller buildings are deserted.
The quartermaster warehouses are stored to the brim with rotting supplies and materials of all descriptions. Wagons are standing under open sheds, their wheels rusted.
In the middle of one warehouse is a small mountain of sausage grinders dumped upon the dirt floor.
Army trucks are huddled together in little groups like cattle in a storm, without even a canvas covering.

Trucks Needed
These trucks will soon have deteriorated to such an extent as to be worthless except for junk. Iowa farmers would welcome the chance to bid on these wagons and trucks.

The federal government will accept a bid of $34,000 offered by the state of Iowa for about 637 buildings, including 80 of the big barracks, a huge reservoir and a complete waterworks system with pumping stations and mains.

This portion of the camp, to be purchased for the Iowa National Guard, is on land owned by the state. The state is buying property valued at $2,000,000 for $34,000. Three-fourths of the buildings on this section are to be torn down and the proceeds from the salvage used in maintaining a permanent state camp in the remaining quarter.

All the other buildings of the camp are doomed by the elements.
Many are already leaning or sagging. There is a fortune in window glass alone in the deserted camp.
Plumbing equipment is going to waste. Scarcely a single barnack or bath house has been stripped.
Electrical fixtures, wiring and poles were left behind.

The wonderful base hospital, built to accommodate thousands of patients, is in a state of decrepitude.

Somewhere in the mazes of barracks is stationed one skeleton of cavalry. A solitary mounted guard makes a lonely patrol around the camp, watching for fire.

Talia grass, imported to Florida from Brazil, is said to have a high nutritious value.

FLY DRIVES BLACK FARMERS FROM HOME

Chicago—A vast section of one of the most fertile quarters of the earth has been abandoned because of the tsetse fly, the bite of which causes the African form of "sleeping sickness" or trypanosomiasis.

The deserted agricultural region is in Uganda, in the islands of Lake Victoria, South Africa, the second largest lake in the world.

The scourge entails the loss of millions of dollars in agricultural production. No effective means has yet been devised for fighting it.

New and remarkable discoveries about the disease have just been published by G. D. Hiale Carpenter, M. B. S. D. M. B. Ch., of the Uganda Medical Service in his book, "A Naturalist on Lake Victoria."

Dr. Carpenter spent 40 months studying the strange malady which has killed hundreds of thousands in Uganda, entirely depopulated towns and cities, left villagers crawling around in dread stupors, and caused great tracts of highly cultivated land to relapse into scrub and forest.

German Visits Country on Passport from "King Cole of Missouri."

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Shanghai—Intriguing Germany had its humorists among the men scattered far afield to spread sedition in allied countries. It was discovered here today, when the inside story of the operations of Alfred B. Mende became known.

Mende is in prison in Cook county, Illinois, after having surrendered to United States Marshal J. J. Smiddy at Honolulu.

Mende is the German who was entrusted with the task of hatching a plot for a revolution in India during the war. He fell under suspicion.

Unable to secure a passport for flight, he proceeded to manufacture his own credentials. The passport on which he successfully traveled through China and Japan was issued by "King Cole," by the grace of God, king of Missouri.
"We, King Cole, request and beg of all to whom these presents may come to grant and permit safe passage, journey and residence in further enumerated lands to our well-beloved subject, Alfred B. Mende, whose photograph, personal description and signature are hereunto affixed."

It is in the closing paragraph that Mende lifts himself into the first rank as a humorist. It reads:

"Given in our capital, Showme, Missouri, and under our hand and seal this 27th day of May, 1918."

A gold belt now lying on the floor of the sea, outside Honolulu harbor, caused his undoing. Mende was approaching the Hawaiian islands on shipboard. He realized that he could not use his fraudulent passport in American territory and dived overboard to swim ashore.

But he had reckoned without the weight of his money belt strapped about his waist. He was compelled to cast aside the heavy belt in order to reach the shore.

Penniless in an alien land, Mende surrendered.

Last year Mexico exported 154,000, 000 barrels of petroleum.

FORM NEW BOARD FOR EDUCATION AT M. E. CHURCH

New Religious Body Organized to Further Constructive Program.

A board of religious education for the First Methodist church was formed Wednesday evening at a meeting and supper of the official board of the church. The board was created at the recommendation of Prof. Earl Emme, educational director of the church, in order to put on a constructive and adaptive program of religious education.

The board consists of W. S. Ford, J. G. Rosebush, R. A. Buxton, for one year; Mrs. L. A. Youtz, Adam Emley, Mrs. G. C. Cast, two years; W. E. Smith, Elmer Root and Mrs. Frank Wright for three years. Dr. I. B. Wood and Prof. Earl Emme will be ex-officio members of the board.

Prof. Emme has worked out a plan similar to one which has been adopted successfully in Congregational churches and a Baptist denomination and is now aiming to make the board a vital factor in furthering the program here at the First Methodist church.

The constituency of the board represents for the most part leaders in various activities in the church so that the program instigated will be balanced.

The board of stewards of the church delegated the new board with power to act on the new H-Y magazine which is just being published under the auspices of the H-Y club.

FIRE PLATOON BILL HAS BAD FEATURES

Council Instructs Mayor and Committee Head to Present Objections.

The common council, at its adjourned meeting Wednesday night, joined the League of Wisconsin Municipalities in its fight against assembly bill No. 238, now before the legislature, providing a double platoon system for fire departments. The council and league is not opposed to the system, it was said, but the bill contains several objectionable features.

Mayor Hawes and the chairman of the fire and water committee were instructed to attend committee hearings on that bill and offer Appleton's objections.

Aside from discussion of that bill, little business of consequence was transacted. Votes cast in the primary election were canvassed and nominees declared.

Widening of Oneida-st., from College-ave. to the alleys north and south, was discussed and the engineer was instructed to investigate the possibility of doing this work. Construction in the area is the reason for the action. Three carloads of road oil was purchased from the Camden Petroleum Co.

C. OF C. WILL HANDLE FARM LABOR REQUESTS

Receiving his fourth letter from farmers wanting to help the county out of its help shortage, Postmaster Gustave Keller decided to place the applications within reach of farm owners. He has turned the letters over to Secretary Hugh G. Corbett of the chamber of commerce and will forward all future letters to that office. Farmers may have access to them there. The letters came from Rice Lake, Grand Marsh, Racine and Indiana Harbor, Ind.

James Chadeck left for Manitowoc Thursday afternoon to spend the remainder of the week.

My First Job

J. A. HAWES
Mayor of Appleton

When I left school I decided to take up pharmacy; consequently my first job was clerking in a drug store in Fond du Lac. It was in 1878 that I took a clerical position for the firm of Kalk and Kent in Fond du Lac. I studied Latin in high school, so I was quite familiar with the Latin names of the drugs, and after a year and a half I took an assistant's position in another store.

I had a pal who also was interested in pharmacy, and as boys we had often discussed the possibility of going into business together. I was speaking to a traveling salesman, who was a good friend of mine, about my ambition. He told me that he knew just the place for us. His home was in Appleton, he said, and in that city the oldest and best drug store was for sale, because both its owners were in poor health.

The result was that at 10 o'clock one night in May, 1881, my pal and I stepped into Appleton—strangers in a strange land—and took a look about the town. We liked the city so well that we decided to stay and at 10:30 the next morning we were in business in a city of 8,000 people. That was my first job in this city and I stuck to it for 15 years.

BILLIONS WANTED BY ALLIES BY MAY 1

(By Edwin Hallinger)

By United Press Leased Wire
Paris.—The allied nations are convinced Germany can pay her indemnity bill but that she has no intention of doing so, the allied reparations commission declared Thursday in a note to the Berlin government. The note declared that Germany must pay 20 billion gold marks to the allies by May 1. The amount is about $4,500,000,000. Germany was warned that refusal to pay the one billion marks demanded Wednesday constituted a failure to meet the terms of the Versailles treaty.

Berlin's failure and her apparent lack of intention to pay the reparations demanded, have been referred to the allies, the note said.

Indefinite occupation will be considered by the allies as an additional German penalty.

GREEKS REPULSE TURKS ALONG A WIDE FRONT

By United Press Leased Wire
Athens.—Turkish nationalists are retreating beyond the Baghdad railway line in Asia Minor, according to a Greek communiqué Thursday.

The communiqué stated the Greek armies started an irresistible drive Wednesday forcing the Turks back along a wide front.

The Greeks are approaching Eskihir with the enemy in headlong flight, it was stated.

(Eskihir is an important junction on the Berlin to Baghdad railroad about fifty miles east of the armistice line drawn prior to the London conference in which the allies attempted to settle the Asia Minor dispute.)

Leaf Lettuce Uses

With leaf lettuce in the market at a lower price than head lettuce it is worth while to use it.

Cut the leaves in shreds about 1/2 in. wide. This is easily and quickly done with the shears. Chill in water and dry between towels. Leaf lettuce prepared thus is as attractive as head lettuce for salads.

Menu for Tomorrow

BREAKFAST — Baked apples with sugar and cream, bran pancakes, sirup, coffee.

LUNCHEON — English monkey, canned fruit, plain cookies, tea.

DINNER — Cream of tomato soup, baked stuffed whitefish, potatoes with lemon butter, spinach salad, lemon pie, coffee.

Use spinach at least twice a week until the actual home-grown is in market. Then serve it daily for a week. There is no food like it for car spring and a cook can do much for her family by the conscientious use of it.

Bran Pancakes

One-half cup bran, boiling water, 1 cup white flour, 1 cup sour milk, 1 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Put bran in mixing bowl and pour over as much boiling water as the bran will absorb. Add flour and salt sifted together. Add sour milk with soda dissolved in it. Beat well and bake on a hot, well-greased griddle. An egg may be added with the milk.

Potatoes With Lemon Butter
Three cups potatoes cut in cubes or marbles, 1/4 cup butter, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 dessertspoon minced parsley.

Pare potatoes and cut in half-inch cubes or in marbles, using a vegetable cutter. Let stand in cold water for half an hour. Cook in boiling salted water to cover until tender. Drain and add lemon butter. Cream butter and add lemon juice drop by drop. Add salt and pepper and parsley. Serve very hot.

Adventures of the Twins

Olive Roberts Barton

"Flippety-Flap's" Shoes

Soon the twins, accompanied by Flippety-Flap, the fairyman, were on their way to hunt the circus animals. Mind you, the whole lot of them had escaped, having been set loose by the gnomes.

"Now, then, let's see," said the fairyman, sitting down suddenly and looking at the sole of one of his immense shoes. "I keep all my notes and memoranda here. It's so convenient. And I've written down the name of every creature that used to be in the circus—his address, too. But land knows, the names of some of 'em are so enormous there wouldn't be enough shoes in the world to hold one of 'em. Take the elephant, for instance, his name is Rajah Singh Allah Dingh Mochapootra. Lallahuggarstan."

"What did you say?" asked Nancy. "Land o' goodness! I can only say it once a day," replied the fairy. "The circus people called him 'Squeak' for short."

"Why?" asked Nick. "Say," grinned Flippety-Flap, "if questions were dollars, I'd be able to start a bank, shouldn't I? I don't know why."

"He lives at—well, he lives in a jungle near a river in a far-off country. Now let's be off."

Flippety-Flap jumped to his feet and took an enormous stride. It seemed as though he must certainly have the seven-league boots, for he was almost out of sight at once.

Nancy and Nick told their Green Shoes to follow the fairyman, and instantly the faithful little servants were whisking the twins through the air after the fast-disappearing fairy. Like comets after the moon, Flippety-Flap always kept one enormous step ahead. Over rivers and hills and lakes he led them, walking over water as though it were solid ground. As for the ocean, the fairyman strode right over it, shoving whales and icebergs out of his path with his toes, like so many pebbles.

Confessions Of A Bride

(Copyright 1920)

THE BOOK OF DEBORAH

I Spend Forty Hours in a Wilderness of Pressing Problems

Forty hours I spent in the wilderness while doctors and nurses worked over my husband. There was nothing for me, the wife, to do but hover near his bed and wait and watch and brood. The time spent so was like a period at the end of a dramatic chapter in Bob's life and mine.

By some mysterious law of nature which gives to man the ecstasy of existence and to woman the travail, my husband escaped all regrets for the mistakes of our married life, and was able to evade responsibility for the safety and beauty of our future.

It remained for me, the wife, to resolve and to plan to conserve all that should be finest and most worthy in the days to come. That is, if there was to be a future for us to share. More than once I had my doubt about that as I waited for the turn in Bob's condition.

While I meditated, in my forty hours in the wilderness, I counted the inevitable if unknown changes which I had to face.

Change is a law of nature. I had to accept that. Wives who expect married life to be the sole exception to this law have to pay, sometimes bitterly, for their ignorance. I recalled a quotation from the Chinese, very ancient, and still the most modern wisdom:

"Misery, alas, supports happiness. Happiness, alas, conceals misery. Who knows its limits? It never ceases. The normal becomes abnormal. The good in turn becomes unlucky."

A change in my life and Bob's had already commenced. Would it swing toward misery or toward happiness?

Would Bob come out of the stillness which paralyzed his brain as well as his body?

Would my husband feel, ever again, the pull of my soul upon his?

In facing the new epoch in our lives, I realized that Bob's problems and mine had many angles. It was silly to reason about them abstractly. I must put them plainly to myself:

Would Bob, regaining consciousness, be sane?

Or would he relapse into that old state of anabasia, wherein he would forget my love for him and his for me, as he had done once before?

Or would he slump into something worse than forgetfulness—would he prefer another girl to me?

And would I have the power as once before, and having it use it, to take my husband away from her and to establish our home and our happiness permanently?

Even as I tried to be generous, and tried to see life in a big way, the petty, wifely jealousy in me made me wonder where Bob spent the time preceding his collapse. In spite of my honest desire to be fine and high in all things, I determined to find out whether Ted's wife to me, or Bob's own dissipation, had caused his sickness.

Perhaps it would be most unfortunate for me to know what my husband had been doing. Perhaps the discovery would wreck me, but even so, I must find out.

There was a grain of sense behind my jealous resolve. I had to know because if the wife—Ted's telegram to me—had shocked Bob into a nervous collapse, it was because Bob cared! It was because he loved me!

EASTER

It is not vanity that makes us think of new things to wear at Easter. It is the spirit that the season typifies — bursting out into a new life. The trees, the flowers, the birds, have the same spring-like feeling.

Can you think of a more suitable time to proffer a remembrance of jewelry, as dainty as a flower, as lasting as time, a new thing to wear?

JEWIS CELEBRATE FEAST OF PURIM

Local Congregations Hold Special Services and Festival Events.

Celebration of the Jewish holiday known as the feast of Purim was opened with services by Moses Montefiore congregation at the synagogue Wednesday evening. The ceremonies continue throughout Thursday also.

Temple Zion congregation will not observe the event until Sunday, when a play will be given at 2 o'clock in the afternoon by the children. Queen Esther and other Biblical characters will be personified and the happenings at the first feast portrayed.

In all Jewish families and Jewish circles the festival spirit is emphasized during the Purim celebration. The people give presents to one another. The church services are based on the book of Esther, which relates the history of the event.

Jewish people have always felt that the incidents narrated in this book have reflected their own career. According to the book of Esther, Haman plotted to destroy the Jews throughout the province of the Persian empire. The day for the slaughter had been proclaimed, but by means of the intervention of Mordecai and Esther, the murderous designs of the persecutors were brought to naught.

Retires After Traveling Nearly 3,000,000 Miles

Samuel A. Smith, Veteran Green Bay Mail Clerk Leaves Service Thursday.

Travelling nearly three million miles as mail clerk on trains of the tenth division of the railway mail service, Samuel A. Smith, Green Bay, retires Thursday under the new civil service pension act after 32 years continuous service. Mr. Smith is well known here because of his daily stop over at the postoffice while waiting for his train to Green Bay each evening.

Mr. Smith leaves a daily run between Appleton Junction and Aniwa on trains Nos. 116 and 117 of the Ashland division of the Chicago and Northwestern railway.

Mr. Smith has been employed for the last four years on Ashland division trains Nos. 116 and 117 of the Chicago and Northwestern railway. He came down from Green Bay each morning to take his train at Appleton Junction. He travelled as far as Aniwa and then returned here in the afternoon, taking a northbound train home each night. About 140 miles a day was covered on this run.

Reaching the age of 62 years next Friday, Mr. Smith is automatically retired. Railway mail clerks are placed on pensions at that age, three years earlier than a postoffice employee. He has covered enough territory to have travelled around the world more than 110 times, riding an approximate distance of 2,727,600 miles.

Unlike many mail clerks who spend so many years on the road and travel so many miles Mr. Smith has never figured in a serious accident or wreck. His train has left the track three or four times but nothing more noticeable has happened. There has never been a holdup in his experience.

"No, I have never been in a hold-up," said Mr. Smith when asked if stickup men ever tried to rob the mail car. "My territory was a pretty decent one. I know there are more hold-ups nowadays than there used to be, but I won't have to bother about those things any more."

The first run taken by the veteran clerk was between Chicago and North-Ispring on the Chicago and Northwestern road. He travelled the entire distance both ways, putting in almost day and night service. The clerks try to adhere to an 8-hour schedule nowadays, but it was different in the early days. There would be a heavy grind for about a week and the clerk would then have a rest period for several days. This run covered a distance of 397 miles each way.

Often Snowbound
Mr. Smith put in six years on this run, and was then transferred to the territory between Green Bay and Sturgeon Bay. This route was 57 miles each way. He remained there until October, 1913, when he was placed on the Appleton-Aniwa run from which he is now retiring.

Nothing sensational ever happened during his long period of service. The Sturgeon Bay route was troublesome in the winter, because the road frequently became snowbound. More than one night was spent by the clerk in a desolate place with too much snow all around for the train to move until aid could reach it.

There has been considerable improvement in the facilities with which mail cars are provided since the early years of Mr. Smith's service, but the clerk has more work than ever. Oil lamps were used at first, making night work wearing on the eyes. Later these were replaced with gas, and now the best trains have electric lights.

The old wooden coaches have been replaced by steel ones, eliminating much of the danger of wreck and fire. Mail clerks expect to get the worst of a wreck because their car is so near the front of the train, Mr. Smith says. Clerks seemed to have all they could handle in past years, but Uncle Sam took on the parcel post. Now the cars are loaded so full of sacks that the clerk has little room in which to move about and do his work. It is no uncommon sight to see two or three hundred sacks of parcel post thrown into the baggage car because there is no room in the mail coach.

Mr. Smith is hale and hearty at his advanced age and feels as capable of doing his duties as when he was younger. He is not averse to the pensioning idea, however, and expects to retire with considerable satisfaction. His home has been in Green Bay ever since he entered the mail service. He has a wife and two children.

LAWRENCE REPRESENTED AT JOURNALISTIC MEET

Prof. W. B. Lindsay and Frank Williams will represent the Lawrence chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity, at the national convention March 25 and 26 at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich.

This will be an exceptionally important convention, being the first held since the war and also the first in this section of the United States. It is only within most recent years that the fraternity has granted chapters in small colleges. Chapters exist in most of the state Universities.

Delegates at the convention will represent about 25 chapters. A feature of the entertainment side of the gathering will be a track meet at which delegates will be guests.

Officers of the local chapter are: Garfield Day, Geneva, president; Lester Abbey, Appleton, vice president; and Paul Carr, Juneau, secretary-treasurer.

Pi Delta Epsilon is the only honorary journalistic collegiate fraternity.

It is estimated that 15,000,000 persons were interred in the catacombs of Rome.

BANKS WARN AGAINST FRAUDULENT STOCKS

Banks are issuing warnings to rural communities against strangers who are touting the country offering unknown securities in exchange for Liberty bonds. German bonds in particular are being offered by these tourists. For instance, a farmer exchanged a $600 Liberty bond for a German note of 6,000 marks, the actual value of which is $150. About the only charge that can be brought immediately against these swindlers is "obtaining money under false pretences." Foreign bonds are not only unreliable but may be counterfeit, or stolen, it was said.

Banks are always ready to sell or exchange Liberty bonds for customers who so desire. Information regarding to the matter will be furnished free upon request.

The Farmers Easter Suit
Editor Post-Crescent—Last week a neighbor farmer asked the writer to accompany him to Appleton to help him select his Easter togs, being attracted by the glowing announcements of style work. To the soft and silvery strains of seductive music rendered by hidden orchestras, we went ashopping, until finally my friends rounded up a suit that pleased him, costing him one hundred and fifty bushels of oats, in other words, $45 in lawful money.

Next we hiked in search for a decent pair of kicks to give his feet the proper Easter understanding; the cost of the shoes was five cow-hides averaging 35 pounds each for a total of 175 pounds of hide (more than any one man would care to carry very far) at the local market price of 4c per pound or 7 "dime men." To complete the Easter outfit or cap the climax, we again elbowed our way through the merry throng in quest of an Easter head-piece of the proper hue, and a tie to bind the bargain. The trifling cost of the last two items was covered with the price he received from the last shearing of ten full grown sheep, 60 pounds of wool at the market price, and there wasn't enough wool left from the shearing for a wad to stuff in the boy's ear to stop the carache. By the way the scaler of weights was not able to make the scale tip the beam over 3 1/2 pounds on this suit.

The actual cost of the suit of clothes to the farmer, $166.75.

These figures are very conservative, as I have made no allowance for wear and tear of machinery, harness and other little items connected with farming. Daily as we pick up the papers we find items urging the farmer to buy until his burts, to help the manufacturer, etc., who have not come back to pre-war prices. Don't you think this tiler of the soil paid considerable of the music?

ANOTHER FILLING STATION ASSURED

Construction of a gasoline filling station on the Eggert hotel property, corner of Appleton and Franklin-sts., by the United Consumers corporation of Wisconsin is to be started in the very near future, it was announced by

Saturday Night. Hear La Salle Entertainers. Prof. G. E. Grant, Mgr.

T. P. Walters, district manager. It is expected to have the station ready for occupancy before July. Between $25,000 and $30,000 is to be invested in the structure and contents, he said.

The corporation, in addition, plans to make Appleton its distributing point for this territory, erecting several large storage tanks on a site to be procured along the railroad right of way. This station will serve Seymour, New London, Kaukauna, Menasha and perhaps other places in which the corporation either has or intends to erect filling stations.

An option was secured on the corner property a few weeks ago from the George Walter Brewing Co. and the deal was completed shortly after. The Kerns Service station intends to erect a station across Appleton-st., on the Golden property, it has been announced.

Postpone Meeting
Several directors of the chamber of commerce were in Madison Thursday to attend the tax hearings and the regular meeting of the board of directors therefore was postponed for Thursday of next week. Both the old and new officials are to meet at that time.

New British coins have been issued which contain only half the amount of silver used in the old pieces.

Because of misunderstanding arising over the action of Judge Spencer in remitting the fine of Frank Krance who was held for violating the game laws it has been explained that Krance was hailed into court for having live coons in his possession. The animals were caught while Krance was cutting wood and he took them home, not knowing he was acting in violation of the law. The fact that Krance did not intend to violate a law and his youth, coupled with his promise to release the animals was the reason the fine was remitted.

IS AIDING FIGHT FOR NEW "DRY" LAW

The Rev. Thomas W. Gales Is Assisting Anti-Saloon Workers in Madison.

The Rev. Thomas W. Gales, superintendent of the Appleton district of the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league, is in Madison this week assisting the entire staff of field workers who are supporting passage of the Mathison bill, which was up in the senate Wednesday.

"Wisconsin wets have put up a most desperate fight against this bill for several reasons," said the Rev. Mr. Gales. "One is the exasperating fact that it was fathered by Assemblyman Mathison, dry floor leader, who defeated Nolan, wet floor leader of the last term, in the recent election. They also object because it is really the Mulberger law amended in such a manner as to take out the lenient features and give Wisconsin a more effective enforcement measure than the Volstead act."

The Rev. Mr. Gales regards the possible passage of the Mathison bill as the culmination of the greatest "dry" campaign ever staged in Wisconsin. Over a thousand educational meetings were held, drawing an attendance close to 175,000 people in all sections of the state.

"Wisconsin with one-third of the breweries of the nation, famous for its beer, beer drinkers and beer control, has passed through a moral revolution during the last five years," he says. "The state is placed in the front ranks of prohibition lawmakers. With aroused public sentiment, enforcement of the laws may be looked forward to in the near future. If the league continues its Americanization program with the success attending it during the past two years, bootleggers, law-breakers and disloyal propagandists of that fraternity may pack their grips and take ship for some more congenial clime, for the constitution and flag loving people of the Badger state will have none of them."

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Wing and son William, Jr., left Wednesday evening for New York, where they will spend about ten days. They expect to spend Easter with their daughters, Eleanor and Bonnie, who are attending school in Washington, D. C.

SHOULD REMOVE HATS FOR MILITARY FUNERAL

"There seems to be a lack of knowledge as to the custom of paying respect when a military funeral is passing," said a prominent Appleton military man. "I noticed this when the procession bearing a deceased Appleton veteran passed through the streets Tuesday."

He referred to the appropriateness of removing the hat while the military escort carrying the flag is passing. He handed the paper the poem below, aptly describing his views in the matter. Pardon, stranger, as you stand there. Won't you uncover—leave your head bare?

It's only respect, for a soldier goes by. You didn't know him? Neither did I. But he fought for Old Glory, for you and for me. That we might still live in a land that is free. What need we know of his rank or his name. Or whether he won particular fame? His casket is cloistered in the flag, my friend. Proof he was soldier true to the end. Listen, stranger, and can't you hear The tread of feet as they disappear? A firing squad, a bugler and all. Last tribute to one who has answered "last call!"

It's not merely a temporary relief either, but a real filling for the tooth which will last for weeks or months, until you get ready to have a permanent filling put in. Chew on it same as on other teeth. Anyone can use it. Takes but a moment to apply.

"E-Z Tooth Filler" is for sale at your druggist's at 25c a bottle, or sent direct upon receipt of price by the Chas. A. Hartman Drug Co., 3471 East Ave., Chicago.

BLOOD FLOWS IN GERMAN REVOLTS

big Leuna works went on strike, joining the street crowds and making the work of the police more difficult.

At Hamburg the fighting began when communists urged fellow ship workers to join them in a strike. Police interfered, using their revolvers and rifles. Two policemen and fifteen communists were killed. Huge bands of communists joined by lawless elements joined in the looting of banks and postoffices at Wandsleben, Mansfeld and Leipzig.

Efforts were made to bring security police into action against the uprising. Fighting in Hamburg began at noon when lunch hour crowds left the big shipyards.

Arguing violently for a strike, communists precipitated small fist fights which grew into riots.

Three attempts were made to dynamite a courthouse at Leipzig. Occupants of the building were driven out. The third explosion did great damage to the structure. The nearby streets had been cleared and no casualties resulted.

Three deaths were reported in Freiburg when a courthouse was dynamited. Two more persons were injured in the crashing masonry.

Police beat back a great crowd at Hottstedt which stormed a line of officers demanding that the town hall be handed over to them.

A large band of radicals drove guards away from a small bank at Rodewisch, tore the bars from the windows and obtained a quantity of currency.

Rioters used armored lorries in terrorizing Mansfeld. A large crowd fired on a squad of police early in the afternoon. The officers did not answer the shots and the crowds became bolder.

Later other mobs formed. Fifty rushed the postoffice, overpowered the clerks there and took all the valuable mail they could find, leaving the office in confusion.

Another band mounted machine guns on an auto truck which was halted at a street intersection commanding the approaches to the State Savings bank. The gunners kept the street clear while the vaults were emptied of 200,000 marks. A private bank was robbed in the same way.

Defiance was shown the radicals at Halle. Ober-President Hoersting issued a proclamation declaring the lawless bands would be combatted to the utmost.

The response to Hoersting's announcement was the immediate declaration of a general strike in that district.

RATE COMMISSION DISCUSSES COSTS OF TRACTION CO.

Papermaker Suggests Manufacturers and Utility Company Fix Rates.

Hearing on petition of the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat & Power Co. to increase its electric rates opened before John S. Allen of the Wisconsin Railroad commission in the city hall shortly after 10 o'clock Thursday morning. Among the appearances were Attorney F. W. Doolittle of Milwaukee and A. K. Ellis, general manager, for the Wisconsin Traction Light, Heat & Power Co.; Attorney J. P. Frank for Thimpany Pulp & Paper Co. and other paper manufacturers; City Attorney Theodore Berg, District Attorney Fred V. Heinenmann, Appleton; Attorney Schultz of Neenah, and other attorneys and city officials from neighboring cities. Appleton was also represented by members of the common council.

Mr. Allen made a general statement at the opening of the hearing in which he related the facts as they have occurred up to the present time. He gave the essence of the orders that have been issued by the commission, and stated that the commission had called this hearing for the purpose of giving to the people of Appleton results of its preliminary figures, for instance, the valuation, the cost of coal, costs of operation during the ten months ending Oct. 31, 1920, and various estimates as to the probable cost of operation during the year 1921.

Discuss Coal Costs
Commissioner Allen was accompanied by G. C. Matthews, statistician of the commission, and H. E. Xenger, reporter. Mr. Matthews was the first witness called and was still on the stand when the noon recess was taken. He had gone over the Traction company's books and gave an exhaustive array of figures as to the cost of operation including cost of labor, coal, etc. Considerable time was spent on the coal question which the commissioner announced was one of the most important items.

Leave it to Businessmen
While this question was being threshed out John Strange of the John Strange Paper Co. of Neenah said in his opinion that was a matter that ought to be taken out of the hands of the railroad commission and suggested that the manufacturers of Appleton, Neenah, Menasha and Kaukauna get together on the proposition and arrive at a definite figure that would be fair to both the public utility and its patrons. This met with the approval of Mr. Allen who said the commission would sign an order prepared by an intelligent body of men without looking at it and he spoke not only for himself but for other members of the commission. He commended the spirit of the manufacturers in their willingness to get together.

WAGE REDUCTION FOR C. & N. W. EMPLOYEES

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Notice of a wage reduction was served on employees by the Chicago and Northwestern railroad Thursday.

Officials and representatives of maintenance of way employees and laborers conferred in an effort to establish a reasonable wage.

A conference with other branches of service was announced for April 4.

The railroad proposes to discontinue payment of time and a half for ninth and tenth hours. Maintenance of way forces will work eight or ten hours as the men desire.

Brownatone Ends Gray, Streaky Hair

Ladies, in society, no more tolerate gray, streaky hair than they do unbecoming gowns. Either can the business girl or person in any walk of life who would keep up-to-date.

The process is tried and absolutely harmless way to tint gray, faded, streaked or bleached hair to its natural color.

"Brownatone" tints instantly and will make you look ten years younger over night. No messy, dirty pastes to bother with—no waiting for results.

All druggists recommend "Brownatone" on a money back guarantee—50c and $1.50. Two colors—shading from "Golden to Medium Brown" and "Dark Brown to Black."

seemed about to fall while delivering a sermon in Havre de Grace.

Born in Baltimore

Cardinal Gibbons was born in Baltimore, July 30, 1834. He was the son of Thomas and Bridget Gibbons and was one of six children, three boys and three girls.

The cardinal's father was an Irishman who with his wife came to America shortly after his marriage.

When James Gibbons was three years old the family returned to Ireland where the father took up farming in county Mayo. The future cardinal began his studies in the village of Ballinrobe.

His father died when the boy was 15 years old and the mother, with her children, returned to America, settling in New Orleans.

Shortly after the arrival of the Irish family in New Orleans, James Gibbons became a clerk in a grocery store.

A trio of visiting missionary priests, fired him with religious zeal and he commenced his studies in 1854.

Ordained 60 Years Ago
He was ordained at the cathedral where he himself ordained over 1,000 others, June 30, 1861. His first appointment was that of assistant pastor to Rev. James Dolan, at St. Patrick Church, Baltimore.

In 1865, Archbishop Spaulding, then head of the Baltimore diocese, appointed Father Gibbons his secretary. His first real elevation came when the second plenary council met in Baltimore and he was appointed assistant chancellor.

At that council he amazed the prelates with his profound knowledge of the church. The result was that he was appointed vicar apostolic of North Carolina. The bull confirming his

29 KILLED IN RED BLAST IN THEATER

By United Press Leased Wire
Milan, Italy—Twenty nine persons were killed here Wednesday night when anarchists' bombs exploded in the Diani theater.

A riot was precipitated in which socialists and anarchist publications were wrecked, angry crowds attempting to set the editorial offices afire.

Three bombs were tossed into the orchestra pit.

Three explosions followed quickly. Plaster and masonry fell in on the screaming mass. Fire broke out in wings.

Twenty persons were killed outright. Nine more died before their bodies could be extricated. Fifty were found seriously injured and 100 more sustained lesser injuries.

WANT GRAAS TO BE
DAD-SON SPEAKER

Annual Get-Together Meeting Is to Be Held in Auditorium
March 30.

Kaukauna.—In accordance with the custom, a father and son day banquet will be held in the city on Wednesday, March 30 in the auditorium. The 175 are being made to see the Judge Henry Graas of Green Lake, as the speaker of the evening. Instead of having several talks by boys with answers by dads as was done previously, only one talk will be given by a representative of each group.

This will be done so that there will be more time for motion pictures of the state Y. M. C. A. boys camps. It is expected that more than 400 dads and sons will attend the banquet. There is no limit as to the number of boys a man may bring. If he has none of his own he should feel obliged to bring some boy who otherwise would not attend the meeting.

Music will be furnished by Webster's Male Quartet. Mrs. E. Farwell will give piano-victrol selections and there will be community singing under capable leadership.

On Sunday April 3, the Sunday following the banquet, a father and son sermon will be preached from the pulpit of the city.

Meet in Chicago
R. J. Medcalf, manager of the local railroad Y. M. C. A. will leave Friday to attend a convention of railroad Y. M. C. A. secretaries in Chicago. Plans for the annual membership drive week will be made at the meeting.

The Dinwiddie Welsh concert, under the auspices of the Epworth League of Breckinridge church, will appear Thursday evening, March 31, in Epworth home. The company consists of five artists.

David Owen Jones and Ben Davies are tenors, Jeanette Christine is the soprano, Genevieve Andrews, is pianist and reader while Beth Trevor is a violinist.

The program, consisting of solos and duets, is of the highest type.

Want Glee Club Concert
Negotiations are being carried on between the training school people and the manager of the Seymour high school boys glee club in an effort to arrange a concert for Kaukauna in the next month. It is probable that the group will arrange for an evening concert in connection with its tour. Either April 22 or 29 will be the date.

Missionary Meeting
The Missionary society of the Reformed church met Thursday afternoon in the church basement. Regular business was transacted after which a missionary topic was discussed.

MULFORD TEAM LOSES
LAST GAME OF SEASON

Kaukauna.—Mulford's Clothing team lost the last basketball game of the season Wednesday night in the auditorium to the Menasha Jolly Five. The final score was 21 to 13. Although the visitors looked like grade school boys, they knew how to handle the ball and their speed at passing and accuracy at shooting soon put them in the lead.

The local players put up a good fight and their offensive often gave them a chance to shoot at the goal but were unable to land the ball through the ring.

A number of fouls were called on both sides, most of them for personal offenses. A few times the players came close to getting mixed up in fist fights.

At the end of the first half the score was 13 to 10 in favor of the Jolly Five. The locals came back in the second half with a determination to take the lead but the basket was too small for them. For a while they held the visitors to no score and during that time the Mulford players made only one field goal. The Menasha boys excelled in free throw tossing. While the locals made only a few out of the numerous free throws, the Jolly Five scored all but two or three of the shots.

awarded third prize. A 2-course supper was served after the games.

Hotelmen Shun
13 As Number
For Guest Room

Would you like to sleep in room 13? If so Appleton hotels are no place for you. Perhaps you will travel a long distance before you can find a room with that number. There is no room 13 in any of the Appleton hotels and proprietors say that as long as they have been in the business they never have heard of a room numbered 13.

Hotelmen believe a room with that number would be shunned by the travelers as unlucky. People could not be induced to sleep in it they say. They said it is a general custom among the hotels to skip the number.

A number of the larger hotels are numbering in the hundreds. This might be another way to avoid the unlucky number. For instance, 200 on second floor and 300 on third floor. Apparently without second thought number 213 or 113 is used without fear of consequences.

Ford and Agrell Win

Agrell's and Ford's volleyball teams were victors in Wednesday night's games of the business men's roller ball tournament at the Y. M. C. A. Agrell defeated Lange in the first two matches and Ford defeated Freude in two matches.

The final game will be played Monday between Ford and Agrell. Neither team has lost a game so it will be the deciding one of the tournament.

ELECTION KETTLE IS GETTING HOTTER

The political pot is still simmering with no indications of it boiling over with the approach of election day. Tuesday, April 5, if any great amount of campaigning is going on in the county it is being done quietly and does not show on the surface. The three most important offices to be filled at the coming election are those of circuit judge, county superintendent of schools and assessor. The judicial contest is between Attorney A. H. Krugmeier and Judge E. V. Werner, while the candidates for county superintendent of schools are A. H. Meating, incumbent, and Miss Florence Jenkins of the town of Liberty. The nominees for assessor are A. C. Rula, former assessor of incomes, and George Linsperger, a member of the former board of assessors. A third candidate, Peter Rademacher, was eliminated at the primary election Tuesday.

AN OPEN LETTER TO WOMEN

Mrs. Little Tells How She Suffered and How Finally Cured

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was not able to do my housework and had to lie down most of the time and felt bad in my left side. My monthly periods were irregular, sometimes five or seven months apart and when they did appear would last for two weeks and were very painful. I was sick for about a year and a half and doctored but without any improvement. A neighbor recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me, and the second day after I started taking it I began to feel better and I kept on taking it for seven months. Now I keep house and perform all my household duties. You can use these facts as you please and I will recommend Vegetable Compound to everyone who suffers as I did."—Mrs. J. S. LITTLE, 3455 Livingston St., Philadelphia, Pa.

How much harder the daily tasks of a woman become when she suffers from such distressing symptoms and weakness as did Mrs. Little. Such troubles may be speedily overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
